biography

Kate Clinton is one of America's best and brightest political comedians. This humorist/monologist's agenda includes political material of modern family relationships and perspectives on life as a gay American. Kate's first book, Don't Get Me Started, is filled with insightful and riotous thoughts. In addition, she writes monthly columns for The Progressive and The Advocate, has written for the New York Times and George magazine, and served as a writer on The Rosie O'Donnell Show in 1996.

In 2000, Kate opened her tour of Y2K8.comedy at The Public Theater in New York. In 1999, Correct Me If I'm Right premiered off-Broadway at the Westbeth Theatre Center. In 1993, Kate's Out is In debuted in Los Angeles to rave reviews and then moved to New York where it enjoyed a 3-month run off-Broadway. She has appeared on Good Morning America, Nightline, Entertainment Tonight, The Rosie O'Donnell Show, The Roseanne Show, The Arsenio Hall Show, Leeza and numerous news and talk shows on Comedy Central, Lifetime, Oxygen, MSNBC, CNN, and C-SPAN.

Kate has six comedy albums to her credit including Babes in Joyland, Comedy You Can Dance To, and Read These Lips. As an actress, humorist, host, and panelist, Kate has worked with some of the great writers and performers of our time, including Tony Kushner, Olympia Dukakis, Tracey Ullman, and Madeline Kahn. Kate hosted an evening at The Kennedy Center when Richard Pryor received the first-ever Mark Twain Award. At New York's 92nd St. Y she interviewed Calvin Trillin and Harry Shearer and took part in Leonard Lopate's Politics is Funny Business. She emceed the amFAR Seasons of Hope event where Clive Davis, Michael Douglas, and Billy Crystal presented awards to Quincy Jones, Sharon Stone, and Robin Williams. At Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism she joined Dick Cavett, President Clinton's speechwriter

Mark Katz, and Moderator Ted Koppel for the Alfred I. duPont Forum Money, Humor & Spin in Election 2000 broadcast on PBS. Kate performed at the 2001 V-Day celebration of the Vagina Monologues in a sold-out Madison Square Garden benefit to end violence against women. In 1999, she received a Lifetime Achievement Award from the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force and was listed in the New York Magazine's Year 2001 "Gay Power 101." In December and January, she appeared in the New York production of The Vagina Monologues. During 2001 Kate Clinton celebrated her 20th anniversary of performing. She is currently at work on a second book Kate Clinton: Collected Speeches [I Never Gave] (working title). Filmmaker Catherine Gund is shooting a retrospective of Kate's first twenty years.
